PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Four happy and profitable years have passed since we entered Enfield High School as freshmen. The years have passed more swiftly than we believed possible because we have been engrossed in the activities of working and playing together. The record of these shared experiences is the history of the Class of 1951.

In making this record, each of us has contributed a share, and each of us has received untold opportunities for growth. We are deeply grateful for these opportunities—for the kind and sincere tutelage of our faculty; for the loving care of our beloved parents; for the facilities offered us by our townspeople.

This Year Book is a portrayal of the activities which mark our growth as a class. Our accomplishments in the fields of sports, of clubs, of all the many-sided aspects of school life are here reviewed; our hopes for future years are indicated; our sincere interest in this school is reflected.

Sincerely yours,

BRADFORD DAVIS.

1951 CLASS HISTORY

The weather on September 8, 1947, was clear and warm when we, as children, opened a new chapter in our lives by entering Enfield High School. That morning, 147 pale Freshmen entered the auditorium and many, for the first time, saw those grown-up people who were called Seniors. Most of them turned around, laughed, or pointed at us. From what we have learned through the years, we know now what they were saying. After being pushed around by the Seniors and becoming lost many times, we soon became acquainted with the school and the teachers. Little by little, the old grammar school cliques broke up in favor of new groups.

Before the year had hardly begun some of the boys had already made themselves known by entering their steers in the Eastern States Exposition. They were Tom Blowen, Jack and Bill Lynch, and Walt Simmons.

The Seniors welcomed us by having the Senior-Freshmen Reception in October. We satirized what they did in the cafeteria in a skit as our part of the entertainment.

The election of class officers was held. Those elected were: President, John Iacolino; Vice-President, Thomas Blowen; Secretary, Joan Devine; and Treasurer, Rosamond Lagel.

We were very proud of the only Freshman in the play, "A Date With Judy," presented in November. Ann Hines played the part of Susie.

In December, the American Legion oratoricals were held. Julianne Dupuis was the contest winner from the Freshman class who competed with the upper classmen.

The Annual Hi-Y Minstrel was held in April. Our class was represented by Jane and Marie Turner, Pauline Wagner, and Brad Davis. There were many other Freshmen in the chorus.

In November of our Sophomore year, Julianne Dupuis, Bob Stimets, and Brad Davis starred in the play, "Life With Father," which proved to be a hit.

While rehearsals for the play were going on, class officers were elected as follows: President, John Iacolino; Vice-President, Rosamond Lagel; Secretary, Rosemarie Cimino; and Treasurer, Janet Wojcieszek.

The winners in the Oratorical Contest in our Sophomore year were Julianne Dupuis and Doris Cooper. They also competed for the school title.

In April of that year we were saddened by the sudden death of our classmate and artist-friend, Angelo Cassotto. We attended his funeral mass at Saint Joseph's Chapel. His warm smile and quiet ways will be remembered by all.

Stars in the Hi-Y Minstrels were Pauline Wagner, Kenneth Marshall, Jane and Marie Turner, Brad Davis, and Marion Morgano.

We became politicians in our Junior year for we initiated a new method of electing officers, similar to the methods practiced by the parties of our country. We voted by using the town voting machine. Officers elected were: President, Bob Stimets; Vice-President, Kenneth Marshall; Secretary, Janet Wojcieszek; Treasurer, Marion Alaimo; and Historian, Isabelle Harrington.

The stars in the play, "Jennie Kissed Me," were our classmates Briand Brodeur, Ann Crowther, Julianne Dupuis, and Brad Davis.

Our class was well represented in the Hi-Y Minstrel by Beverly Wing, Fred Cygan, Frances Romano, Sylvia Puleri, Brad Davis, Kenneth Marshall, Marion Morgano, Tom Blowen, and Jane and Marie Turner.

In May, the first two girls from Enfield ever to be honored by the Y.M.C.A. received honors for leadership and dependability. They were Janet Wojcieszek and Isabelle Harrington.

Our representatives at Girls' and Boys' State in June were Janet Wojcieszek, Ann Hines, Bob Stimets, Briand Brodeur, Kenneth Marshall, and Walter Sokol.

A tradition was broken at Enfield High School by having an informal Junior Prom, which was held April 25th with Bob Stimets as chairman. "Cinderella Frolic" was the theme, and our advisors were Mr. Peter Staszko and Miss Mary Malley.

The host and hostess for the Farewell Prom in June were William Olschafskie and Rosemarie Cimino.

The beginning of our Senior year was saddened by the sudden death of our beloved teacher, and friend, Miss Frances Janick. The class was represented at her funeral by our officers and members of the Delegate Assembly. Her smiling eyes and cheerful disposition will long be remembered by all.

We went into business at the end of September by having a successful hot dog and hamburger stand at the Four Town Fair.

Election of class officers was held. Brad Davis was elected President; Kenneth Marshall, Vice-President; Mary Vesce, Secretary; and Rosamond Lagel, Treasurer.

It was our turn to welcome the Freshmen and we did so by having the Senior-Freshmen Reception in November. With Kenneth Marshall serving as Chairman, a group of girls produced a skit, and Beverly Wing sang a solo.

"Sleigh Bell Ball," our Prom, was held on December 15th with Brad Davis and Jean Ambrosini as host and hostess. Mrs. Eddy, who has always chaperoned the dances, honored us by being at our Prom as she has in past years. Our advisors were Mrs. Johnson and Miss Tatoian.

In January, Janet Wojcieszek was presented the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award.

Most of the boys who have participated in sports have been on the baseball, basketball, and football teams during our four years here. Those boys who have been on teams are: Frank Marocchini, Donald Carlson, Bob Stimets, Walt Sokol, Fred Cygan, Bill Olschafskie, who was co-captain of the basketball team, Bill Jones, Brad Davis, co-captain of the basketball team, Henry Mercik, Alex Miller, Kenneth Marshall, Jack Lynch, and Jeff Theofiles, who was co-captain of the football team.

Committees for the Year Book, class night, and pictures were chosen and worked hard to make our last year a success.

The Oratorical Contest was held in February of this year. Brad Davis was chosen as winner of the school.

So closes the cover on this record of the Class of 1951, only to become part of the silent annals of many unknown histories and to be remembered only in the hearts of us who are before you tonight.

CLASS OF '51

CLASS WILL

Friends, Members of the Faculty and grieving Underclassmen:

I find it my duty and privilege as attorney for the distinguished Class of 1951 to read their last will and testament.

We, the honorable class of 1951, being of humble heart and of exceptionally highly-cultured mind do freely and without influence of any kind, hereby publish and declare this, our last will and testament pronouncing null and void all previous wills, testaments and instruments heretofore made. We fervently desire that these, our treasured wishes, be carried out as hereinafter directed.

Item I: To the school, its faculty and administrator we leave our sincerest appreciation for the privilege of attending this higher institution of learning.

Item II: To Mr. Tatoian, our beloved principal, we leave our heartfelt gratitude for his virtuous guidance of this renowned class.

Item III: To our successors, the Juniors, we bequeath the warmth of Mr. Nigro's heart and humor and the ambition to fulfill the responsibilities that coincide with a Senior class.

Item IV: To the worthy Sophomores, we leave our most outstanding characteristics—intellect, integrity, and poise.

Item V: To the beloved little Freshmen, we graciously leave all the agonies and pains that you may have the good fortune to encounter.

The following bequests are made in good faith and we hope that they will be accepted in the same spirit.

1. Fred Cygan and Donny Carlson leave their fascinating and charming ways to Johnny Lamont and Franny Burke. However, Fred retains his well-deserved title of Class Romeo.

2. Bob Stimets leaves his swiftness to anyone daring to be slower than molasses in January.

3. Marion Morgano leaves her elegant wardrobe to Ann Richardson.

4. Reggy "Stretch" Clark begs Kenny "Shorty" Marshall to leave him one of the necessities of life—ability to see all.

5. Lillian Arnone is fortunate to receive Joan Devine's cuteness. We hope that she can put it to use with Joan's modesty.

6. Bill Olschafskie, our basketball hero, bequeaths his alertness on the basketball court to Red Malley. Keep up the good record, "Red."

7. Eileen Turcotte, Florence Hayden, and Catherine Hayden leave their inseparable ways to "Mimi" Downton, Joan Thompson, and Judy Davis. May they never part.

8. Shirley Houghton leaves her red hair and freckles to Dottie Kaczynski.

9. Julianne Dupuis and Doris Cooper generously leave their musical talent to Bobby Drinkwater and Donnie Sauer who already have acquired a great deal of their own.

10. Alex Miller bequeaths his inventive genius to Atherton Ryan who, we are sure, will put it to the best advantage.

11. Marion Hyland, Jane Turner and Pauline Wagner leave their alluring ways to certain prospective Freshman girls.

12. We wonder if Nancy Pare will equal the athletic achievements of Barbara Rossi.

13. Brad Davis, our inspiring President, bequeaths his administrative ability to that promising politician, Jimmy McBride.

14. Our beloved Ann Crowther leaves her creative genius and patience to anyone who can possibly live up to the high standards she has set.

15. Pat Brouillette, Mary Nai, and Barbara Gatto bequeath their sunny dispositions to Connie Angelica, Alice Blowen and Carol Collins. They brighten Enfield.

16. The Class of 1951 should like to have it publicly known that its members have done their share in distributing wads of gums throughout the school. We hope that Mr. McLaren will be appreciative of these generous donations.

17. Stacia Golemo and Lena Siana leave their enthusiasm for Booster Club activities to any underclassmen with their school spirit.

18. Marion Tenerow and Helen Korona receive the chatting ways of Chicky Romano and Sylvia Puleri.

19. Rosemarie Cimino and Veronica Dedonis leave their charming personalities and warm smiles to Joanne Cunningham and Mary Crombie.

20. Our future farmers, Walter Simmons, Tommy Blowen, Teddy Simmons and the Lynch brothers leave their agricultural abilities to next year's farmers along with new gas masks.

21. Ann Hines, Janet Wojcieszek, and Cecelia Jackson bequeath their intellectual capacity balanced by their poise to Mary Nigro, Elizabeth and Mary Lou Gardner.

22. Fran Carzello and Jannett Felie leave their secretarial qualifications to the diligent members of Miss Allen's classes.

23. Tommy Puleri, that fascinating Freshman, receives the dancing ability of our Ken Marshall, although he does well for himself.

24. Teddy Flasiński bequeaths his sincere interest in the Projection Club to all its future members, hoping that they benefit as much as he has.

25. To Mr. Staszko, we leave our undying gratitude for his patience and courage with our meager attempts.

26. We leave next year's speech class the qualities of our great orators—self-assurance, dependability, and dignity instilled in us by our patient Miss Brakel.

28. To the halls of Enfield High, we leave our everlasting echo to ring out through the years.

In witness thereof, we, the Class of 1951, set our hand and seal the thirteenth day of June in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and fifty-one.

CLASS PROPHECY

The year is 1961. The place is a large room in the Pentagon Building in Washington, D. C. Bradford Davis, Chairman of the Federal Television Commission, has invited the distinguished Class of 1951 to enjoy a reunion and an evening of television.

As we look around us, we find that many of our classmates are missing, but we are sure that we shall find them on our TV set.

Incidentally, our modern set has been designed by the great electrical wizzard, Robert Stimets.

As Bradford Davis turns the dial, we find ourselves looking in on the Fred Cygan Variety Show. Ah, there is "our boy," Kenny Marshall, the famous impersonator! And now, we hear those two talented singers, the Turner sisters, Jane and Marie, giving their rendition of the immortal ballad, "Forever and Never," composed by the one and only Barbara Gatto. The spotlight beams now on our singer of the classics, Beverly Wing, with a selection from "Carmen." The Metropolitan Opera star, Pauline Wagner, was unable to appear this evening as she is giving a personal appearance tour in Europe with her accompanist—Doris Cooper.

We interrupt this program to bring you a special bulletin! Frank Alleva, warden of Alcatraz, announces that two desperate criminals have made a break! Police chief, Briand Brodeur, has issued a nation-wide alarm.

We now take you to Mary Vesce's Superb Spaghetti Parlor, the place where only the famous celebrities go for their spaghetti.

Oh, look! There's that famous actress who won the Oscar for her fine portrayal of Bette Davis in the movie, "All About Adam," Juliette Dupuis! With her is her very private secretary, Jannett Felie, who, on the side, paints chinaware. Here comes Stanley Flasiński, the author of the worthy encyclopedia, the Enfieldiana! Behind him, is his brother Theodore Flasiński, the celebrated newsreel cameraman. Both are with their wives—two of the five Dionne quintuplets!

Seated at a table, the life of the party, is the well-known master of Gardner's Choral Group, Edward Gardner. Seated with him is his famous publicity agent, Stacia Golemo.

A few tables away is Janet Gosselin, a copy-writer for Esquire, and with her, gazing around the room, is George Hallowan, the Editor. George is on the lookout for new—shall we say—faces for his magazine.

Drowning their sorrows in Mary Vesce's famous spaghetti sauce are Isabelle Harrington and Catherine Hayden, reminiscing about their days at Enfield High. Isabelle is the multi-millionaire Herring Manufacturer, and Catherine now owns the world's foremost bakery.

In the limelight on the floor, we see the spectacular ballroom dancers, tiny Florence Hayden and Eileen Turcotte!

The trumpets are blaring, and in walks Professor Ann Hines with her assistant and best friend, Dr. Einstein.

Ann Crowther, the first woman editor-in-chief of the Hartford Times, is sitting enjoying her spaghetti. With her are her three capable secretaries: Veronica Dedonis, June Chickosky, and Frances Carzello. Frances, who is the former owner of the W. T. Grant Company, handles all of Ann's money matters for her.

Rosemarie Cimino and Joan Devine, those exclusive interior decorators, are seated, chatting over old times with Walt Simmons and Tom Blownen, big cattle ranchers from Wisconsin. With them is Theodore Simmons, millionaire sheep rancher.

Someone just told us that Robert Dugas, owner of the Somersville Mills, has just arrived in his Mercury convertible. He was having it repaired at the DeVenero Garage by John DeVenero and his able assistant—Robert Clifford.

We turn now to Channel 6 which takes us to Janet Robillard's Skating Palace, where her capable instructor, Lena Siana, is giving roller skating lessons. Whizzing around the rink are Savilla Turgeon, Connie Richmond and little Chicky Romano, world's champions, practicing diligently for their next competition.

An intermission will now be held during which refreshments will be served. The refreshments were prepared by the famous cook—Loretta Wasowicz—who now teaches Homemaking at Enfield High School, and they will be served under the capable supervision of Janice Burgess, Mr. Davis's receptionist.

As we return to our television, we find the latest news being reported by "Hedda" Shirley Pothier.

Flash! Joseph Petronella, Enfield Real Estate Agent, is being sued by his secretaries, Mary Nai and Ann O'Neil, for underpayment and long hours. He is being defended in court by those famous women attorneys, Ruth Thompson and Evelyn Young.

Incidentally, the modern courthouse was recently designed by that famous architect, Henry Mercik.

Exclusive! Marion Morgano, the specialty dancing star of that new smash Broadway musical, "Popping My Buttons," broke her leg while doing a difficult number, and will be replaced by Martha Smith, who will fly here from her beautiful home in Beverly Hills. The musical, written by Margaret O'Brien, has enjoyed two straight years at New York's largest theater.

It has been revealed that Joan Stewart is now in Pasadena establishing a modeling agency. With her are her two Powers models, Lenore Scavatto and Dorothy Slick.

Joseph Scalia, the nation's top stock car driver, once a professional football player, is the highest paid driver of the year.

Miss Barbara Rossi has just been chosen as the nation's top woman drummer.

Shirley Maylott and Sylvia Puleri have just received Oscars for their performances in "The Miller Story," the portrayal of the rise to fame of the playwright, Alexander Miller.

We now turn you to the world of sports!

Bill Olschafskie and Donald Carlson, because of their untiring efforts, have recently won the American Pennant for their basketball team, and broken all world's records.

We hear that the big league hockey player, Herb Wry, is directing his talents to another field. He just signed a contract for a lead in the Ice Capades.

Walt Sokol recently made the Eastern All Star Team because of his high average of 35 points per game.

Roberta Smith, woman's free-style champion swimmer, is bound for the Olympics, representing the United States.

John Theofiles and Bill Jones, famous football coaches, are busy training their teams for the all-important Rose Bowl game next week.

Marilyn Caisse has just been chosen National Tennis Champion for the year.

We now switch you to Channel 16 where we will hear lectures by the Dean of Bay Path Junior College, Miss Janet Wojcieszek, and Professor of English at Smith College, Marion Alaimo. They will lecture on the lowly teenager of today in comparison to the superior teenager of 1951.

Channel 23 provides a beautiful fashion show for us with creations by Jean Ambrosini, the exclusive designer, who recently returned from a tour of France. Miss Ambrosini's creations may be purchased at the Forbes and Wallace Department Store, where you will find Credit Manager, Lillian Bentivenga, most cooperative.

"Franny" Ambrosini will insure your safe ride to the dress department on her new jet-propelled escalator.

And now our programs are interrupted with two very fine commercials. "Ladies, are your hands rough and red from washing dishes? If so, you must be using the wrong brand of soap! America's leading housewives, the former Dorothy Alaimo and Patricia Brouillette, suggest that you try the new miracle soap—'Softo'—and see the amazing results!"

If you wish to look like your favorite movie star, your only hope lies in Bocwinski and Butterfield cosmetics for the skin you love so much.

We now switch you to the program, "We the People," with celebrated master of ceremonies, Andrew Maciolek. Mr. Maciolek is interviewing those two prominent Lynch brothers—Jack and Bill—who have their own Farmers' Exchange program. With them is their efficient secretary, Lillian Mancuso.

Girls, get a hold of your hearts because the great "Crooner" Frankie is coming on the stage. Of course, we mean the one and only Frank Marocchini, star of the "Hit Parade."

We have with us on this program the intelligent Eileen Karpinski, winner of the 17 "Hit the Jackpot" programs, Eileen is planning to retire and reside in her own public library.

Mr. Maciolek is now interviewing the two famous milliners, Jean Los and Shirley Houghton who have revised the "Salad Hat," to be sampled by Dietician Marion Hyland.

To close the program, the M. C. is now interviewing that important executive of the Bigelow-Jackson Sanford, Cecelia Jackson. She is comparing notes with her public relations executive, Rosamond Lagel, and her banker, Irene Lizak.

It is now 12 o'clock and our distinguished chairman, Bradford Davis, reaches over and switches off the television set. He sits back and breathes a sigh of contentment, and his heart fills with great pride. He has seen an example of the talented and superior Enfield Class of 1951, and feels sure that our classmates will advance ever further in their respective fields to become America's most outstanding leaders and citizens.

Indications are a greater number of high school graduates are now enrolled in our colleges and universities than ever before in the history of our country.
